

April 14, 2005

To: Holly Mutual Water Homeowners

Re: Our 2005 Watering Schedules

We will begin delivering water on April 15, 2005. The schedule which is included indicates the days and times water is available for your gardens and lawn.

The watering schedule will be for 2 days per week and will vary in hours based upon low and peak conditions. In other words, longer hours when the weather is supposed to be hotter and drier; shorter hours in the wetter, cooler months.

We are legally constrained as to the total amount of water we can use each calendar year. If we abuse this, we lose the right to manage our own well. Please take care to follow your schedule and report any broken pipes or leaks you may notice. As we have mentioned previously, the success of our system, including quantity of water and good sprinkler head pressure, hinges on our ability to cooperate as a community. Using the system on your off days and times reduces your neighbors' pressure and delivery, and also depletes the holding tanks that allow continuous supply during the demand times.

Please be informed, again, that using Holly Mutual Water for water features, swimming pools, ponds, washing vehicles, construction or maintenance tasks is not allowed. The water is not treated to sanitary standards and is solely intended for watering of vegetation on your property.

Last year, we had excellent results and reliability, thanks to the efforts of our engineering volunteer. He worked with our well maintenance company and the result was stable, reliable delivery of water with good pressure.

How to Contact Us

The Holly Mutual Water Company has a website, and we encourage you to check the site for updates. That site is:

<http://www.taom.com/~hollymutual>

Please sign up for automatic-mail notification messages from us as well. It is a very convenient method for us to communicate with everybody. For registration, go to

<http://www.taom.com/mailman/listinfo/hollymutual-announce>

If you want to e-mail us, please send that to:

hollymutual@taom.com

We would like to get away from mailing out newsletters, but we will continue mailing them so long as some people are not registered for e-mail notification.

Also, we are looking for volunteers for our Water Board. Let us know if you are interested in joining our team.

Sincerely, Jeanne Tubb, secretary, Holly Mutual Water Board